PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF WISCONSIN

Application of Q LINK WIRELESS LLC for Designation as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier

9597-TI-100

FINAL DECISION

This is the Final Decision in the investigation to determine whether to designate Q Link Wireless LLC, (Q Link), as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier (ETC), pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(2) and Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.13. Designation as an ETC makes a provider eligible to receive federal and state Universal Service Fund (USF) monies. Q Link sought designation solely for the purpose of receiving USF support for the low income programs, including Lifeline and Link-Up. This Final Decision addresses Q Link's request for designation as a Lifeline-only ETC. Q Link is granted ETC designation subject to conditions.

Introduction

Q Link filed a petition for designation as an ETC on December 2, 2011.¹ This application was affected by changes by Federal Communications Commission (FCC) actions during the pendency of the application. The Commission issued a notice requesting comments on April 5, 2012, with comments due on or before April 20, 2012. No comments were filed.

Q Link requested ETC designation throughout its service territory, for the purpose of receiving low income program support. Q Link will be serving the entirety of those wire centers shown in Appendix A, and only portions of the wire centers shown in Appendix B. Q Link is designated as an ETC in those wire centers show in Appendix A, and conditionally designated as an ETC for the wire centers shown in Appendix B, subject to the condition that the FCC grant forbearance of the requirement that ETC boundaries match those of incumbent local exchange carrier wire center boundaries for those wire centers.

Q Link originally applied for designation for the purposes of receiving support from both the Lifeline and Link-Up programs. This application was affected by the Commission's docket relating to the proper reimbursement amount for wireless providers under the Link-Up program (docket 5-TI-2134), and by the FCC's recent decision to limit the federal Link-Up program only to tribal areas. The Commission deferred its decision on Link-Up in docket 5-TI-2134 until June, 2013, to allow time to assess the impact of the FCC decision on Wisconsin residents. Therefore, this decision applies only to ETC designation for the purpose of receiving Lifeline support. Eligibility for Link-Up support will be addressed at a later time.

Findings of Fact

1. Q Link is a cellular mobile radio reseller offering prepaid wireless service in the wire centers served by Wisconsin Bell, Inc., (d/b/a AT&T Wisconsin).
2. Q Link will not seek high cost support from the state or federal USF.
3. Q Link has committed to providing service to all requesting customers, and to advertising the availability of its service, throughout area in which it is designated as an ETC, as required under 47 U.S.C. § 214(e) and Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.13.
4. Q Link has committed to providing service that meets the requirements set forth in Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.13, but sought waivers of some of the requirements.

5. Q Link provides service over a mix of its own facilities and facilities obtained from other providers, as required by 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(1)(A).

6. Q Link's business plan and status as a prepaid wireless provider together with the administrative difficulty of applying some requirements of Wis. Admin. Code ch. PSC 160 creates an unusual circumstance that justifies adopting different requirements concerning the pay phone requirement, the minimum monthly charge, and the minimum monthly discount.

7. It is reasonable to adopt a requirement concerning pay phones other than the one set forth in Wis. Admin. Code §§ PSC 160.13(1)(d) and 165.088. It is reasonable to require Q Link to work with other providers to ensure that there is at least one pay phone in each municipality.

8. It is reasonable to require Q Link to provide a monthly credit in the form of minutes, in lieu of the dollar discounts set forth in Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.062(2)(b).

9. It is reasonable to not require Q Link to charge a minimum monthly fee, as set forth in Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.062(2)(c).

10. It is reasonable to require that Q Link discontinue service to, and collection of Lifeline support related to, any Lifeline phone with no usage in a 60-day period.

11. It is reasonable to require that Q Link file periodic reports, as described in the opinion section of this decision, on the numbers of phones disconnected due to no usage in a 60-day period.

12. It is reasonable and in the public interest to designate Q Link as an ETC for the purpose of receiving Lifeline support in the areas indicated in its application and consistent with this Decision.

Conclusions of Law

1. The Commission has jurisdiction and authority under Wis. Stat. §§ 196.02 and 196.218; Wis. Admin. Code ch. PSC 160; 47 U.S.C. §§ 214 and 254; and other pertinent provisions of Wis. Stat. ch. 196 and the Federal Telecommunications Act of 1996 to make the Findings of Fact and to issue this Decision.

2. The Commission has the authority to adopt different ETC requirements under Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.01(2)(b).

Opinion

ETC status was created by the 1996 Telecommunications Act and codified in 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(2). Under FCC regulations 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(2) and 47 C.F.R. § 54.201(b), state commissions designate providers as ETCs. Designation as an ETC is required if a provider is to receive federal universal service funding. ETC designation is also required to receive funding from the state universal service High Rate Assistance Credit program.

The FCC has established a set of minimum criteria that all ETCs must meet, which is codified at 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(1) and 47 C.F.R. § 54.101(a), et seq. States have the authority to adopt additional requirements, provided that the additional requirements are “not inconsistent with the [Federal Communication] Commission’s rules to preserve and advance universal service.” 47 U.S.C. § 254(f). The United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit upheld the states’ right to impose additional conditions on ETCs in Texas Office of Public Utility Counsel v. FCC, 183 F.3d 393, 418 (5th Cir. 1999).

The Commission promulgated Wis. Admin. Code ch. 160 and specifically Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.13 to govern ETC designations and requirements in Wisconsin. Those rules established the process for ETC designation and set forth a minimum set of requirements for providers seeking ETC designation from the Commission.

Q Link plans to offer prepaid wireless Lifeline service without a monthly fee, in much the same manner as other providers previously designated as ETCs by the Commission.² Under its proposal, Q Link would supply the Lifeline customer with a cell phone at no monthly charge. In place of the traditional Lifeline service discount to the monthly rate, Q Link would provide a set amount of minutes, without charge, each month. Doing so would normally be at odds with Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.062(2)(c), which requires a minimum monthly charge for service.³ Q Link seeks the same treatment as other prepaid wireless providers, namely that no minimum charge apply. The Commission has the authority to do so under Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.01(2)(b).⁴

In the TracFone docket, the Commission expressed concern that the lack of a minimum charge would eliminate automatic notification that a customer had lost, abandoned or otherwise ceased using the service. With traditional service, this becomes apparent when the customer stops paying his or her bills. In the earlier dockets, the Commission required the companies to develop a plan to monitor usage, to cease receiving subsidies for inactive phones, and to report certain information to the Commission on a quarterly basis. More recently, the FCC has imposed similar requirements. Q Link has committed to discontinue service to any cell phone that does not have usage in a two-month period, and to not seek USF reimbursement from the

² Other providers include TracFone Wireless, Inc. (TracFone) (docket 9385-TI-100); Nexus Communication, Inc. (docket 7648-TI-101); and Millennium 2000, Inc., (docket 9593-TI-100).

³ Wisconsin Admin. Code § PSC 160.062(2)(c) states: "Notwithstanding par. (b), in no case shall the Lifeline monthly rate be less than $3 or more than $15."

⁴ Wisconsin Admin. Code § PSC 160.01(2)(b) states: "Nothing in this chapter shall preclude special and individual consideration being given to exceptional or unusual situations and upon due investigation of the facts and circumstances involved, the adoption of requirements as to individual providers or services that may be lesser, greater, other or different than those provided in this chapter."

Lifeline program for that phone. That commitment, coupled with the reporting requirements, would meet the objectives the Commission set forth in previous dockets.

Q Link has requested that the monthly discount set forth in Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.062(2)(b) not be applied to Q Link. Instead, Q Link will provide a monthly discount in the form of a set number of minutes of use to such customers. Initially, Q Link would provide customers a minimum of 68 free minutes, in lieu of the monthly credit. In the future, this equivalency may change. The Administrator of the Telecommunications Division has delegated authority to approve or deny changes to the monthly minute allocation. Changes to the number of minutes may be approved without reopening the docket, issuing a notice or providing opportunity for comment.

Providing free monthly minutes of service in lieu of a monthly discount is an alternative approach to Lifeline service. Q Link's business plan and status as a prepaid wireless provider together with the administrative difficulty of applying some requirements of Wis. Admin. Code ch. PSC 160 creates an unusual circumstance that justifies adopting different requirements concerning these items. The Commission adopted a different method of applying discounts and a different minimum charge in earlier dockets. It is reasonable to modify the monthly discount requirement in the administrative rules and adopt a similar approach to Q Link as has been adopted in past dockets.

Also, in the earlier prepaid wireless ETC dockets, the Commission required the companies to make quarterly filings of the number of customers who were deactivated after 60 days of non-usage and the number of days between the 60th day and deactivation, reported as a range and an average. It is reasonable to apply the same reporting requirements to Q Link.

Q Link has also requested a waiver from the requirement that an ETC provide a pay phone in each municipality, as set forth in Wis. Admin. Code §§ PSC 160.13(1)(d) and PSC 165.088. In earlier dockets, the Commission determined that it would be burdensome and redundant for each prepaid wireless provider to provide a pay phone. Given this, it is reasonable to apply waiver of this requirement as has been done in the past. Q Link is required to work with the other providers in their service areas to jointly ensure that pay phones are available.

The FCC has determined that an applicant should be designated as an ETC only where such designation serves the public interest, regardless of whether the area where designation is sought is served by a rural or non-rural provider.⁵ The Commission finds that it is in the public interest to designate Q Link as an ETC in the areas for which Q Link requests such designation. Q Link will be serving the entirety of those wire centers shown in Appendix A, and only portions of the wire centers shown in Appendix B. Q Link is designated as an ETC in those wire centers shown in Appendix A, and conditionally designated as an ETC for the wire centers shown in Appendix B, subject to the condition that the FCC grant forbearance of its requirement that ETC boundaries match those of incumbent local exchange carrier wire center boundaries for those wire centers.⁶

The Commission is guided by the factors set forth in Wis. Stat. § 196.03(6) when making this public interest determination. Although there are other ETCs in the areas at issue, designating Q Link as an ETC will nonetheless increase competition in those areas and, consequently, will increase consumer choice.

⁵ In the Matter of Federal-State Joint Board on Universal Service, 20 FCC Rcd. 6371, 6373, ¶ 3 (2005).

⁶ See, 47 USC § 214(e)(5) and 47 CFR § 54.207.

Q Link initially requested ETC designation for the purpose of receiving support for both Lifeline and Link-Up programs. Q Link revised its request and is seeking Lifeline-only designation at this time. The Link-Up portion of the application will be deferred, pending a decision in docket 5-TI-2134. The Commission finds that Q Link meets the requirements for ETC designation, for the limited purpose of obtaining Lifeline support.⁷

As part of the public interest determinations for other ETCs, the Commission has considered whether there is a concern that an ETC will “cream skim” the most profitable customers. While it may not be necessary to do so in the Lifeline-only ETC context,⁸ the Commission staff has investigated this issue. Since Q Link has requested ETC status for the entirety of its service territory, the Commission finds no evidence of cream-skimming in this docket.

Order

1. Q Link is designated as an ETC, for the purpose of receiving Lifeline support, throughout the wire centers identified in Appendix A.
2. Q Link is granted ETC status, for the purpose of receiving Lifeline support, throughout the portions it serves of the wire centers identified in Appendix B, conditioned on Q Link obtaining forbearance from 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(5) and 47 CFR § 54.207 from the FCC.

⁷ Q Link is a cellular mobile radio reseller. As such, it does not require certification from the Commission to operate.

⁸ The FCC has identified that with respect to at least some low-income, wireless ETCs that are not seeking high-cost support, “cream skimming” is not a significant concern. NTCH, Inc. Petition for Forbearance from 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(5) and 47 C.F. R § 54.207(b) Cricket Communications, Inc. Petition for Forbearance, 26 FCC Rcd 13,723, 13,729 (2011).

3. Q Link is an ETC within the meaning of 47 U.S.C. § 214(c), and is eligible to receive federal USF funding, for Lifeline service, pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 254(2). This Decision constitutes the Commission's certification to that effect.

4. Q Link is not required to meet the requirement under Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 165.088 that it provide a pay phone in each incorporated municipality. Q Link is required to work with other providers in its service territory to jointly ensure that pay phones are available.

5. Q Link does not have to meet the monetary discount or minimum charge requirements under Wis. Admin. Code § PSC 160.062(2), but Q Link is instead required to provide 68 minutes of free service per month to Lifeline customers. The Commission delegates to the Administrator of the Telecommunications Division the authority to approve changes to that number of minutes. Changes to the number of minutes may be approved without reopening the docket, issuing a notice or providing opportunity for comment.

6. Q Link shall deactivate any Lifeline phone that has had no usage in a 60-day period. Q Link may not collect Lifeline support for phones deactivated in this manner.

7. Q Link shall report, on a quarterly basis, the number of customers who were deactivated after 60 days of non-usage and the number of days between the 60th day and deactivation, reported as a range and an average.

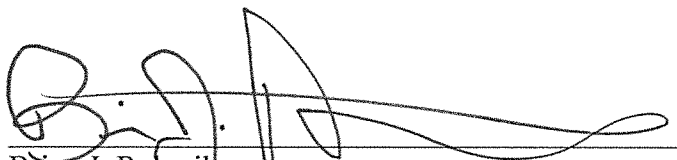

8. The issue of whether Q Link should be designated as an ETC for the purpose of receiving Link-Up support is deferred until after the Commission acts in docket 5-TI-2134. Q Link is required to seek modification to this ETC designation should it desire Link-Up reimbursement or access to any other USF dollars.
