Identification and Ownership - Contacts (Page iv)

Within the $1000 there is one lateral connection for $600 the other $400 is made up of new construction permits to tap into the main water line or mair sewer line to install the service. The fee schedule was set by the City's Common Council and was paid by the home builder or owner.

2/22/04 email:

Thank you for your response to our inquiry regarding the contribution reported in Account 271. Could you clarify if this $1,000 was collected under your Cz-1 Water Lateral Installation charge authorized by the PSC which is $600 for up to 1 inch and actual cost for larger sizes? If this was not charged under Cz-1, please indicate who authorized the "water permit" fee and the basis of the charges (i.e. who paid the $1,000? What was it for, installing the service, or just allowing the construction, etc.?).

Regards, Elaine

2002 Analytical Review DWCCA-4400-ELE

Dear Ms. Kutchenriter:

The Public Service Commission (Commission) staff has completed its analytical review of your utility's 2002 annual report. The primary purpose of the analytical review is to detect possible reporting or accounting related errors and also to identify significant fluctuations from prior years' data that are not sufficiently explained in the annual report. The analytical review did identify the following issue:

On Page F-18, $1,000 is reported as a contribution for water services. Please explain who contributed this amount the basis for the charges.

Responding to the questions posed from the analytical review does not preclude you from possibly receiving other inquiries from our office regarding your annual report in the future: for instance, during a rate
